TO INVADE CHURCHES

Ministers Will Welcome 600 Men Out of Work if They Come to Worship

New York, April 4.—Rectors of two of New York's most fashionable churches—Grace and Trinity—have been informed 600 unemployed men intend to march into their places of worship during next Sunday.

"They will be welcomed the same as the general public," declared Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity. "The church is always open to those who come for worship."

Through his secretary, Dr. Charles Slattery, of Grace, stated they will be "very welcome if they come to worship."

Under the direction of several leaders, the unemployed who have been congregating in a bread line for the last few nights are preparing for the quiet invasion of the churches and trying to get together as big a crowd as possible. There will be no demonstration, according to plans, merely a silent filing into the pews of the men. Coffee and bread will be served before they start for church.

HOUSING PROBLEM IN OTHER CITIES

How Williamsport, Pa., Solved Question by Organizing Stock Company

RAISED $1,000,000

Wisconsin, Michigan and New York Cities Also Build Houses For Mechanics on Same Plan.

In the Spring of 1917, there being not a single vacant house in Williamsport, Pennsylvania, the business men of the city, acting through the Board of Trade, made an appeal to the public spirited citizens of the community, calling their attention to the need which confronted the city, and the opportunity that lay before them. As a result the Williamsport Improvement Company was organized with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, one half of which was subscribed for the purchase of land, and the laying out of a model residential community. Some 887 different individuals in Williamsport subscribed to the stock of the Corporation, which definitely limited its dividends to 6 per cent.

One of the things which makes this case especially interesting, is that it illustrates the possibilities of development of this kind in the smaller cities of America, and also with comparatively small parcels of land, Williamsport is not a great metropolis, it has an estimated population of 37,000, not a great deal larger than Alexandria.

Williamsport developed this proposition by subscribing $1,000,000 stock, elected directors, the directors entering into contracts with architects to build these houses.

The plans adopted called for houses of three main types.

Two family houses- semi-detached or double; four family houses and six family houses. A standard of six rooms and bath for each family was adopted. The lowest price house sold for $2,935 and the highest price for $3,335. The majority sold for $3,185 and $3,285. This enabled mechanics by an initial payment of $30, to immediately come into possession of a high class modern house of six rooms and bath, and at the end of ten years, own it clear and free.

In Waukesha Wisconsin, population 10,000, the Chamber of Commerce organized a Manufacturers and Builders Company to finance building of homes for industrial workers.

Kenosha, Wisconsin, formed Kenosha Homes Company, and so far has built two-hundred (200) houses of modern type. This Co., has brought construction costs to the minimum. by building in quantity, so purchasing material on most favorable terms, and by starting a house almost every day, keeping a small force of

WOMAN UNDER ARREST

Domestic Who Took Trunks From Washington House Held in Baltimore.

Less than three hours after Anna Taylor, colored, who gave her address as 612 South Harrison street Richmond, Va., had bound and locked in a closet Miss Sudie Bowman 1658 Harvard street Washington and then ransacked the house, stealing two trunks containing valuable jewelry she was arrested in Balt., and held for the Washington police. Checks for the trunks, which she had checked at the Union Station, were found on her and, the police say, she confessed to the robbery.

It is believed by the police that the Taylor woman is the same who, on Wednesday, held up, at the point of a pistol, Mrs. Herman Eisman, 130 Fairmont street, Washington and left after failing to find anything of value. An effort will be made to have Mrs. Eisman identify the woman.

The Taylor woman who was employed as a domestic by Miss Bowman had been working less than an hour when she suddenly whipped out a revolver and ordered Miss Bowman to get into the closet. The negress then turned the key and locked Miss Bowman in. She then ransacked the house in a leisurely manner and took two trunks containing jewelry and clothing valued at $1,500.

BOLSHEVISTS ATTACK HUNS

Teutons Resisting Offensive in East Prussia—150,000 On Strike in Berlin

REVOLT IS GROWING

German Soldiers Sent From Rhine Area To Quell Spartacan Outbreak—Scores Killed and Wounded in Street Fighting.

London, April 4.—German troops are resisting a Bolshevik offensive in East Prussia, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch dated Wednesday in Berlin, received here.

Metal workers to the number of 150,000 had gone on strike in Berlin up to Wednesday evening, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the German capital says.

Coblenz, April 4.—German troops opposite the Coblenz bridgehead began moving early Thursday toward Frankfort, where a Spartacan revolt has been causing disorder.

Before entering Frankfort, which is in the neutral zone beyond the French bridgehead based on Mayence, the German military authorities had to obtain permission from the French Tenth Army.

According to information reaching American headquarters here the trouble in Frankfort became serious Tuesday. The workmen formed groups in the streets and eventually a mob of more than 10,000 began parading through the streets. The mob stormed a large warehouse and the members helped themselves to the food stored there. Hundreds filled baskets and sacks with food of various kinds.

Street fighting followed an attempt by the local authorities to gain control of the situation. The German troops opposite the American bridgehead were then called on for help.

Many persons are reported to have been killed in the fighting in Frankfort Monday and Tuesday. In street fighting Tuesday, which lasted several hours, four women are known to have been killed and a large number of civilians are reported to have been wounded.

HELD AUSTRIA IN WAR

Ludendorff Threatened to March on Vienna When Czernin Talked Peace.

Zurich, April 4.—Documents found in the archives of the Austrian foreign office relate to a conversation between Count Czernin, then Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and Gen. Ludendorff, at that time commander-in-chief of the German armies, according to a Vienna dispatch.

Czernin told Ludendorff that the state of affairs in Austria-Hungary was so bad it was necessary to sue for a separate peace.

Ludendorff replied:

"If you try that I will march on Vienna."

Czernin abandoned the idea.

MAN AND WIFE JAILED

James Lynch Gets Year; Mrs. Lynch Six Months

James Lynch, 333 Missouri avenue northwest, Washington, was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000, and his wife, Minta M. Lynch was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 yesterday by Judge McMahon in police court for engaging in what the police call a white slave traffic.

The couple were arrested March 28 by Sergeant Curry. Charges of vagrancy and soliciting for immoral purposes within ten miles of a military reservation were perferred against them.

From the evidence introduced at the trial, it appears that Lynch, who is a strong, husky individual, lived on money brought in by his wife.

PROHIBITIONISTS SIDE

Blame "Wets" For Search of Coffin at Roanoke Virginia

Richmond, Va., April 4.—The Rev. J. Sidney Peters, Prohibition Commissioner of Virginia, alleges that many of the most notorious violations of the prohibition law have been my women, and the unusual part of the affair is that the railroads have allowed men to enter trains and to do the things complained of without ascertainning that they were bona fide officers. Rev. Mr. Peters does not agree that the men in his employ have done the things complained of, but they have been active in making life a burden for the bootleggers, male and female.

Within the last few weeks a well known Virginia man was returning from a visit North, and when his train entered Virginia he was awakened by officers, who demanded to know if he had any liquor. This gentleman is understood to have filed a complaint with the officers saying that such conduct would tend to bring the law and the department into disrepute. Dr. Peters, on receiving the complaint, at once admonished his men to be careful, to procee i with due regard to the law and to be at all times courteous to persons who were believed to have liquors in their possession.

According to the prohibitionists, several days ago some person played a joke on the Federal officers at Roanoke, tipping them off that a certain coffin coming to that city might contain liquor. The officers obtained a warrant, according to the current story, and when the coffin reached that city it was opened. Only the remains of a departed citizen were found. That is one of the cases that has come to the surface in the last week, the belief being that the liquor men and the bootleggers desired to humiliate the officers.

Innumerable cases of women coming to this city with water-bags strapped to their bodies and concealed under their clothing have been reported, the women being indignant when arrested. As a matter of fact, there are agents of the prohibition department at several places where liquor is sold who are tipping the officers here. The prices obtained for liquor furnish the motive for the violations, but the losses of the bootleggers in the last few weeks have consumed their profits many times.

Governor Davis has informed Mr. Peters that the officers in his department must enforce the law impartially in all cases; that they must not exceed the bounds of propriety lest they bring the law and the good name of the State into disrepute, and that in dealing with women they must be tactful and considerate. The Governor, however, insists that the law must at all times be enforced.

Several months ago the officers of one of the railroads entering here refused to let recognized prohibition officers enter the trains for the purpose of making search, and the mystery now is that such searches are being permitted on trains by the railroad officials when they do not know who are the men making the search. Officers here are working with care and discretion, there being few days when they do not go on the trains and walk away with several suit cases and handbags containing liquors, the owners refusing to lay claim to them. Trunks, too, are being seized by the officers at the stations and there are few complaints, but the officers occasionally make mistakes in seizing trunks,

Summed up, the whole situation is this, according to the best information obtainable. The officers are enforcing the law rigidly, they are making the delivery of liquor difficult and costly, and their activities have so reduced the volume of business and the losses of the bootleggers have been so heavy that they are sore. Dr. Peters says there is to be no let up in the enforcement of the law. He has been directed to enforce it and he proposes to carry out his orders at all hazards—Baltimore News.

MAY SINK HUN FLEET

Difficulties of Distribution Said to be Insurmountable

Peace delegates are still perplexed over the problem of the German fleet, navy officials said yesterday.

Difficulties of distributing the German ships among the allied navies are said by navy experts here to be almost insurmountable. The cost of putting a German dreadnought into commission as an American warship, for instance, would cost $5,000,000, it is estimated. The machinery is on an entirely different scale, threads on the wheels turned lefthanded and even electric light sockets are of different size, it is stated.

National rivalry also prevents giving the fleet in total to any one country or two, as has been suggested for France and Italy.

AMERICA'S FIGHTING MEN

It was stated one day this week that American soldiers, who had seen service in France, upon arriving at a home port cheered Bolshevism. The majority of newspapers readers read this statement with regret. Our soldiers had left their homes and gone to a foreign country to do their part in the great struggle for Liberty, but, it seems some returned imbued with doctrines more cruel and despotic than ever dreamed of by the Kaiser.

The Chicago Tribune recently contained the following:

"American fighting men are generally preserving the best traditions of the republic in the transition from war to peace. The change is not easy, in many instances, for there are difficulties to overcome in peace as in war. He is a great citizen who hides his rancor and takes pot luck with a smile.

"From a speech at Columbus barracks, quoted in the American Army Gazette, we take the following as indicating the spirit of the shift from war to peace:

" 'You have gathered here today, in the presence of your comrades, to pay your last formal tribute to the flag before your final separation from the service. This is the flag for which you have sacrificed so much. This is the flag which has been glorified and sanctified by your sacrifices and the blood of your fallen comrades 'Over There.' Behold your flag, the apotheosis of a just and glorious victory. As you return to civil life, remember the ideals of liberty, of good government, of law and order, for all of which this flag stands and ever will stand, and to all of which it has been dedicated by you. At all times pay it the honor and reverence which you, as soldiers, pay it now.'

"We believe the American soldiers will not fail to carry highest in their minds the ideals of good government, liberty, and law and order. It is the sum of the qualities of the civilian soldier."

ENFORCING PROHIBITION

The killing of two men, alleged bootleggers, by prohibition inspectors on the Valley Turnpike last week, is attracting attention over most sections of the United States. The Chicago Tribune refers to the stories coming out of the South of the treatment of travelers by State officers in their search for liquor. This paper says these procedures are certain to provoke serious results unless such activities are curbed. Some of the tales of outrages perpetrated upon women, the overhauling of their berths and ransacking of their baggage, the use of flashlights and the display of revolvers would be dismissed as anti-prohibition propaganda if the Federal authorities had not considered them important enough to warrant issue of a warning against abuse of authority on the part of overzealous officials.

The Tribune says "there is going to be trouble enough in enforcement of prohibition if all possible tact is exercised. If the thing is going to be done ruthlessly, there is certain to be reaction that will do the cause harm.

"There are indications that a number of States believe in taking prohibition with more or less moderation. It is not at all certain that Congress will see in the Constitutional amendment a mandate for the sort of enforcement that the ardent prohibitionist wants. Legislation to put the amendment into effect, the fight before the court as to its constitutionality are still to come. Assuming that necessary legislation will be forthcoming and that the courts will uphold the legality of the amendment and the laws enacted to enforce it, something else will be needed—namely, a public opinion that not only approves what it is sought to accomplish but the methods used to obtain the end sought.

"When all is said and done, juries must be had to convict for violations of the law. That is where the rub will come. It is difficult to conjure up anything that will more quickly breed dissatisfaction with the prohibition experiment than such tales as are now coming out of the South. That dissatisfaction, if it fed upon this sort of behavior, will be reflected in the public attitude toward the whole business and in the attitude juries will take toward the law and the evidence hardly needs emphasis."

IMITATING THEIR ELDERS

We remember many years ago while perusing a comic paper seeing the picture of a flogging machine designed for refractory children. It was printed at a time when most people gave reverence to what was then called "Yankee ingenuity." According to the artists' conception, children could be thrown into a hopper and emerge from the rear end soundly spanked and yelling.

The recollection of this ridiculous picture was brought to mind by reading of a strike of twelve hundred school children in Knoxville, Tenn., who demand the re-election of Prof. J. R. Lowry, a teacher. This individual seems to be a favorite of the urchins. The members of the city board of education, for reasons best known to themselves, refused to elect this man and placed a woman in his position. The unruly scholars are marching through the streets of Knoxville bearing banners with the legend "No Lowry, no school." It is believed a sympathetic strike will be inaugurated by scholars of other schools.

It is unfortunate that the machine referred to above was never perfected and placed in use. Were it in existence today the school authorities of Knoxville could purchase and used it with profit.

JUSTIFY FRYATT DEATH

Investigators Find Execution of British Sailor Was no Law Violation

Berlin, April 4.—The German commission investigating the execution of vCapt. Charles Fryatt, of the British merchant marine decided today that the sentence imposed upon him was not in violation of international law.

According to the German official report of the case, Fryatt's steamer, the Brussels, encountered the U-33 off the coast of Holland in March 1915. Fryatt is said to have attempted to ram the submarine. The Brussels was captured in June, 1916. Fryatt was tried by court-martial in Bruges, convicted of violating the rules of warfare, and executed by a firing squad.

Testimony was introduced at the hearing by the commission to show that Fryatt declared he had tried to evade the submarine, German naval officers testified the log of the Brussels contained an entry admitting that Fryatt steered directly at the U-boat.

Notes of protest from the British and American governments against the execution were read to the commission. Representatives of the British, French, Dutch and Norwegian governments attended the commission's hearings.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful subetitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Judge J. M. Mullen, of the hustings court of Petersburg, yesterday suspended sentence in the case of Carleton Schelnert, of Philadelphia, who at the March term of court pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy. The conditions are that Schelnert's first wife secures a divorce, which she declares she intends to do, and Schelnert remarries wife No. 2, which, it is said, he is willing to do. Wife No. 1 was before marriage Miss Lillian W. Rockett, of Philadelphia. She has been employed in the War Department at Washington.

VIRGINIA NEWS

George Gordon Battle, of New York, will be the principal speaker at the Founder's Day Exercises to be held at the University of Virginia on April 12. Mr. Battle, who is a well known lawyer, was a student at the University from 1886 to 1889 and has since been practicing law in New York. President E. A. Alderman will give his statement of the progress made by the University during the past year.

An interesting legal controversy is in prospect in Danville for the possession of an automobile which was intercepted a few days ago by officers while it was ostensibly carrying a shipment of liquor from Maryland to Georgia. Under the law of the State the car is confiscated by the Prohibtion Commissioner in the event of a conviction, and it is later sold at auction. I. B. Peebles, an attorney of Augusta, Ga. has arrived in Danville, however, and on behalf of his company claims a lien on the car for a large amount of the purchase price, the car having been bought by a brother of William Arrington, who is in jail charged with violating the liquor law.

Col. Albert L. Cox, commander of the Thirteenth Field Artillery Regiment, Thirtieth Division, declines to discuss reports that he is an aspirant for governor. Col. Cox stated that while he was in the uniform of the U. S. Army he was not in a position to talk politics. Col. Cox commanded the Thirteenth Field Artillery Regiment when that unit, together with others in the Thirtieth Division, broke through the Hindenburg line in the Argonne forest.

All railroad piers and freight depots in Norfolk are tied up as the result of a strike of 1,800 longshoremen, employed by the United States Railway Adminstration. The men went on strike yesterday and stated they are working for one cent per hour less than the government is paying common labor, which received 46 cents an hour, and have been promised an increase which has not come. The promise, they claim, was made months ago.

Mr. W. T. Farley's Easy Payment Plan is a good way to make a little money dress the entire family for EASTER. When you pay one, two, or three dollars a week for a lot of clothes you don't feel the outlay. It is like putting what savings you can spare in a bank. The Farley method of Easy Payments ought to be called The Saving Bank System of Shopping. It is not like the regular instalment house credit plan. You get different treatment here and you pay cash prices. So you see it is for us to compete with the cash houses, but our prices show we undersell most of the big cash stores.

labor steadily employed at low cost per hour.

Coatesville, Pennsylvania, Chamber of Commerce, organized a company with capitalization of $100,000, one-hundred citizens agreeing to take $1,000 worth of stock each.

This plan calls for selling houses to persons regularly employed in the cities industries, and to make its sale on such terms as to permit the man of small means to purchase.

The Board of Commerce, Flint, Mihigan, organized a Civic Building Company, and up to last August had erected two hundred (200) houses. The houses including the costs, ranged in price from $2,750 to $4.000. The terms were 10 per cent down, and 1 per cent per month. In size varying from five rooms and bath to eight rooms and bath.

The citizens of Lockport New York organized the Lockport Homes Company, capital stock $100,000. Up to last August they had erected eighty-five (85) houses, selling price $2,650 for five room house, $2,950 for a six room house. The terms were $200 down and $20 per month.

INGOMAR—ENID BENNETT

Running the gamut of human emotions from the pleasure hunting crowds that throng the Great White Way to the grim battle for existence in the Great American desert, "Partners Three," the new Paramount picture, starring Enid Bennett, will be shown at the Ingomar Theatre tonight.

It is one of the greatest emotional parts ever entrusted to Miss Bennett, and gives her a wonderful scope for acting.

RICHMOND—MME. PETROVA

At the Richmond Theatre tonight the wonderful emotional star, Mme. Petrova, will be seen in the great dramatic success "Tempered Steel" with an all star cast.

Attorneys representing the prohibition officers accused of the death of Shackelford and Hudson, near Woodstock, last week, have returned to Richmond. They say that the application for bail is pending, the judge not having received the transcribed evidence taken at the ex parte hearing. Company D, of the Richmond Blues, also arrived home yesterday from Woodstock, where they had gone to protect the lives of the agents from mob violence. Nothing out of the ordinary happened and aside from picket duty about the courthouse the soldiers had little to do.

ROB BANK SAFE OF $50,000

Ansted, W. Va., Thieves Work Silently, But Leave $250,000

Huntington, W. Va., April 4.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the first National Bank of Ansted, 70 miles east of here, and escaped with $50 in cash and War Savings Stamps early Wednesday, according to a message received today by Huntington police asking that a look out be kept for the bandits, who are believed to have come to this city. The robbers, the message said, secured the loot after blowing the locks off the doors of inner chamber of the safe, in which was $250,000 in currency.

The robbery, which occurred between midnght Tuesday and daylight Wednesday, was not discovered until the bank was opened for business Wednesday morning.

So well did the robbers muffle the sound of the explosion which wrecked the safe, persons sleeping in a building 5 0feet distant were not awakened. They are believed to have fled in an automobile over a mountain trail to a railroad and thence come to Huntington.
